EVERY PRECAUTION TAKEN

COMPLETE QUIET IN STRIKE San Francisco earthquake and fire: CENTERS.

Paris, April 27.-The widespread labor agitation tok a dramatic turn today when the police executed a series of wholesale searches designed to unearth an extensive plot against the public security. The searchers includ-ed the offices of branches of labor federation and homes of labor leaders, prominent royalists and Bonapartists and also a number of anarchists. The suspects among the royalists and Bonapartists included the heads of several aristocratic families, among them Count Duran de Beauregard, Count de la Regle, General Baron de Taradel, M. Bacconnier, president of the Royalist Advance Guard; M. Thouvenel, an intimate friend of Prince Louis Napoleen, and Major Feuillent formerly commander of the Imperial Guard, while the laborites who were subject to search included the conspicuous heads of the movement planned for May 1.

Results Were Negative.

The ostensible purpose of the searchers was to discover if encouragement had been given to rioting in the mining district in the north; but the authorities expected at the same time to uncover the entire plan of the present labor agitation, including any men-acing features of the demonstration which is to take place May 1. The searches were operated simultaneously early in the morning. The results in many cases were negative. There is, however, official authority for the statement that documents were found which proved that royalists and Bonapartists intrigued with the labor leaders and liberally financed the rev with the labor clutionary strike movements. The labor federation has refused to hand over its books to the police. The search caused a sensation in labor and royalist circles. In the former they are announced as a device to discredit the labor movement. The opposition press also attacks the searches as an electioneering movement.

More Tranquil Feeling.

In the meantime the public has become more tranquil regarding the possible events of May 1, owing to the completeness of the military and police precautions. MAYOR PINNEY LOSES.

Boise Council Finally Forces the Executive to Terms.

(Special to The Herald.)

Boise, Ida., April 27.—The long standing controversy over the filling of the city positions between Mayor Pinney and the council was ended tonight, when the three principal offices over which the trouble occurred were filled by nomination and confirmation. C. C. Cavanah, one of the leading attorneys of the city, was nominated for city attorney, at the suggestion of the councilmen, and unanimously confirmed, This was after the mayor's first appointee, Silas W. Moody, had been unanimously rejected. D. D. Williams was named for police magistrate and confirmed, succeeding Will F. Locke, the mayor's business partner. J. J. Robertson was made poundmaster. The position of city clerk had been taken out of the controversy by the promotion of the control of the c engineer's office is temporarily disposed and in personnel, many having come of by placing Nelson Davenport in from Ogden and Provo to hear the great charge ad interim. All the positions were formally declared to be vacant by the council some weeks ago, and the mayor until tonight sought to retain the ousted officials.

SUCCESSFUL IN COLORADO

UTAH OCCUPIES A LEADING PO-

SITION. (Special to The Herald.) Washington, D. C., April 27.-President Roosevelt sent to congress today a report on the progress of the beet sugar industry in 1905, prepared by Charles F. Saylor of the agricultural department. The report says success has attended the beet sugar industry in Colorado since the beginning. The season of 1905 was better than usual. Colorado holds a unique position in the development of the beet sugar industry. It entered the field at a comparatively recent date, but already tweive large plants have been installed, with a daily capacity of 9,200 tons. Three other factories-Brush, Fort Morgan and Swinch-are being built, with a capacity of 2,400 tons, and three others are to be built during the present year. The fifteen factories will aggregate daily 11,500 tons of beets and 1,276 tons of sugar, representing a money equiva-lent of $12,760,000. The beet sugar industry in that state has stimulated all sorts of improvements.

Utah Production.

The reports show that Utah was the hird state to enter upon sugar beet production. The start was made at production. Lehi in 1891, and the growth has been healthful ever since. The over-production of beets soon stimulated the erection of other factories. The beet disricts of Utah are said to be better irrigated than in any other state. five factories of Utah have a combined capacity of 4,000 tons. Utah's beet production has been much damaged by the white fly pest, to which entomol-ogists of the department of agriculture Audience in Tabernacle Delighted will immediately turn their attention in the hope of eradicating the insect.

Beet Growing in Idaho.

Idaho is one of the newest and least developed states in agriculture, but the installation of sugar factories has given a remarkable impetus to agriculhair, the wife, the twins, the alleged tural development generally. Idaho muff and all the other accessories of Jan soil has rare qualities for sugar pro-

Wyoming is now under investigation. Beets grown are of a high quality, and Utah and Colorado capital has turned toward that state because of cheap fuel and good water. The report says it is likely that Wyoming, like Idaho, vill suddenly jump into prominence among the sugar states of the west.

Pretty Scene Enacted at Close of the Performance in London Theatre.

London, April 27 .- At the close of the erformance at His Majesty's theatre tonight, at which Ellen Terry had a remarkable reception, a pretty scene had been arranged for the presentation of the Playgoers' club's silver casket and an address in commemoration of the actress' jubilee. Beerbohm Tree, still in his Falstaff make-up, recited an ode of congratulation, at the close of which a dove fluttered down from the files carrying a scroll, which was taken by a dainty fairy who presented it to the heroine of the evening. The scroll contained a rhymed response, having recited which Miss Terry shook hands with Mr. Tree, and with great emotion said her feelings would not allow her to express in words what she felt. Mr. Tree and a deputation of the Playgoers' club then presented the casket, which is embellished in relief with pictures of Olympian games and places of public entertainment in Athens. The ceremony closed with a scene of indescribable enthusiasm. The demand for seats today was remarkable, the crowd gathering early and the line lengthening until the Haymarket resembled a huge picnic. night, at which Ellen Terry had a re-

Victim of Oregon Land Frauds Is Highly Indignant.

Portland, Ore., April 27.-A special to the Oregonian from Salem, Ore., says that N. T. Palmer of Bath, Me., appeared that N. T. Palmer of Bath, Me., appeared before the state land board today to protest against the action of the board in refusing to issue deeds to 20,000 acres of public lands to which he holds fraudulent certificates, known as the "Kelliher" claims. The original applications for purchase were signed by and acknowledged by fictitious persons.

Palmer became indignant over the refusal of the board to issue deeds on his certificates and insinuated that the officials personally were mistreating him. An acrimonious dispute was suddenly terminated by Governor Chamberlain, who advised Palmer to lay his case before the courts or the legislature.

Kelliher is now under conviction in connection with forgery of state school land

DISTRUST OF COUNT WITTE CHANCE FOR WHOLESALERS Constitutional Democrats Will Nevada Retailers Inquiring Names of

Spring Resolution in National Assembly. St. Petersburg, April 28.-(3:40 a. m.)-

Returns from yesterday's election are ties for wholesale men to extend their slow in coming in, but the proportion of business into sections of Nevada forconstitutional democrats chosen contin-ues overwhelming. Up to 2 o'clock this constitutional democrats chosen continues overwhelming. Up to 2 o'clock this morning reports had been received from sixty-three of the 190 constituencies, out of which the Octoberists carried only three, the constitutional democrats and their Polish allies forty-six, and the social democrats two, the remaining twelve being classified as independents, most probably in sympathy with the constitutional democrats. With the exception of St. Petersburg and Moscow, the representatives elected are of little or no prominence, the best known being Prince Volkonsky, Octoberist, of Ryazan, and Bishop Baron Rope of Vilna.

The radical members-elect are now waiting for the convocation of the national parliament to express distrust of the government. A resolution worded in the sharpest terms is being circulated and largely signed by constitutional democratic members-elect expressing lack of confidence both with Count Witte and the emperor.
